Dear Donna,

RE: Torpedo LFA

Aloha, and HAPPY END OF THE WORLD of non-total insanity.

As the consequences of our Fear and Greed Global Paradigms surface, and Cognitive Dissonance begins the normal historical process of civilizational decomposition -after the recent three hundred year spate of composition - we were there, crying or laughing or shaking our heads in disbelief. .

Obvious insanities like MAD - Mutual Assured Destruction- and now LFA, beaching whales at one ten thousandth the power of its intended usage.

Where are we?: Let the Farce be with you spoken by A.E. Newman, to thicken up the conversation after "What, me worry?"

I too agonize through the realities of Nation State governance almost alone on a remote Isle:

Is it seemingly in the national interest to know the whereabouts of enemy subs.

Yep

Are people being paid to defend America, and is this in their arena of concern, for which they are employed? Yep.

Could this imply the end of whales, including the largest brain ever evolved, and very likely a critical piece in the unraveling eco web. Yep.

Would it be just like Military man to do such a stupid thing? Yep.

Tootleoo semi-civilized MAN, you had some good HUMANE moments, for a lethal, genetically and memetically programmed killing machine.

LFA-Low Frequency Active- Exactly what Eisenhower told me in the white house in '56- "Beware the Military/ Industrial Complex."

The risen Ape rose pretty high. But. Who would have believed so little would have been too much?

P.S. I am a Math Teacher committed to Love, Truth and Science, and LFA gives them all a bad name. Torpedo LFA

Sincerely worried,

James C. Loomis
